EPLF enlarges its membership with Servaco Product Testing - Joint Venture with VITO

Brussels, 10 July 2020 – EPLF, the association of European Producers of Laminate Flooring, recently welcomed Servaco Product Testing - Joint Venture with VITO, as a new Supporting Member of the association.

“As president of EPLF, I’m delighted to welcome Servaco Product Testing - Joint Venture with VITO as one of our members. Product testing is a key area for the laminate industry as it is committed to providing customers with the highest quality products, while ensuring a reduced environmental impact.” Max von Tippelskirch (Swiss Krono Group) said.

“We, at Servaco Product Testing - Joint Venture with VITO, are very pleased to be joining EPLF as supporting members. Our collaboration with the association will surely lead to great projects that will benefit both the organisation and its members”, Marc Lor, Managing Director at Servaco Product Testing - Joint Venture with VITO, stated.

The Belgium-based company Servaco Product Testing - Joint Venture with VITO was launched in March 2019. It provides laboratory and consulting services in the market of product emission testing and volatile organic compounds reduction performance testing. The product emission tests analyse the impact of all sorts of building, consumer products, and materials on indoor air quality.

With this new addition to the association, EPLF has now 16 ordinary members, 24 associate members, and 11 supporting members.
